"4th Week of Advent AND Merry Christmas!"

December 23, 2018

The excitement is building. The last bits of preparations are now in full swing. We have just a couple of days left to get ready to celebrate the birth of Jesus and for some of us we might feel ready. For others of us, we are still not quite feeling the Christmas spirit. So, we pray that all will be blessed.

This weekend we celebrate the 4th Sunday of Advent and look to this coming Monday evening and Tuesday for the celebration of Christmas, the birth of our Salvation. There is a great deal of scripture that helps us put the finishing touches on our Christmas preparations.

For this 4th Sunday of Advent we once again hear the familiar reading of the gospel according to Luke on the Visitation. We hear about the young Mary who goes to visit her cousin Elizabeth. Both women are with child. Both women have been given the great gift of being called to motherhood with very special children in their respective wombs. The children coming to these special mothers already have a divine relationship that is evident when Mary arrives and the baby in Elizabeth's womb (who became John the Baptist) jumped for joy at the knowledge of the salvation in their midst.

The Christmas readings are what we often reflect on at this time of year. We hear the familiar story from Luke on the journey of the Holy Family. We hear about the Inn and no place to lay down the newborn King. We hear about the shepherds and angels. We ought to truly be moved by all of these and especially how they relate to us, our faith and our ability to share that faith with those little ones who gaze lovingly at all the decorations and wait for the coming of Jesus AND Santa too.

As Advent draws to a close and the Christmas season begins, we still have a little time to prepare. We, unlike our secular brothers and sisters, have weeks ahead to continue the celebration. We realize that Christmas, for us lasts until January 13th when we will celebrate that final feast of Christmas, the Baptism of the Lord. I hope and pray you will keep up at least some decoration, perhaps your manger or even your tree until the END of this Christmas season in mid-January. Will you do that for Jesus?

Clearly, there are many families in the community for which this season is just brimming with joy, peace and excitement.

To see the children's shining faces on Christmas Eve's family Mass is one of the great joys of the season. To visit with family members who come home at this time is another joy. We share not only time and gifts with each other now, but we also share the greatest gift of our faith in this family where it really does not matter what kind of decorations you might have up or, if you were able to buy any gifts this year. This season's most important aspect is about the coming together to wish each other well.

Another most significant aspect we must remember this holy season is that group of our members who are struggling this season. We may not know who feels poorly due to health issues. We may not know those who are so struggling with finances that they cannot even share a special Christmas meal. We do not know how many folks cringe with each, "Merry Christmas," because of the loss of a loved one this year. Hopefully, most all of those who would not have anything special this season have gotten some blessing, anonymous or known to allow them to celebrate in some special way. We pray especially for these people who are in pain.

Finally, if you are travelling this week, please be safe and come home with great memories. If you have family coming in to celebrate with you, enjoy them, love them and build great memories to last through the generations; these are the true gifts of Christmas for which Jesus came to bring salvation for all.

From All of us at San Felipe de Neri, "Merry Christmas!!"
